

Water is not just for drinking.

Water is a molecule that has certain properties about it, without which life on earth would simply not survive.